

GUESS WHO

MOMMY OR DADDY

STEP 1

Print the quiz sheet. The sheet is a list of questions about the parents to be. There will also be an indicator of both mommy and daddy next to each item. This can be either the names, icons (lips and mustache, for example), or whatever represents the parents.

STEP 2

Pass the quiz sheets to guests, whether that's mailing a sheet to them in advance or linking everyone to a virtual copy of the sheet. Everyone will have time to answer whether they think mommy or daddy will be more likely to do the tasks on the sheet.

STEP 3

Let the guests fill out their sheets. The mom and dad can come forward with props that match their icons on the sheet or fill out an answer sheet in advance.

STEP 4

Let the host read each question out loud.

The parents to be will then raise their props to give their answers to the players. Feel free to have fun with this part! Let the guests talk about their answers and why they think Mommy or Daddy is more likely to take over the task.

STEP 5

Each guest is responsible for checking over their sheet, or players can trade with each other to check answers. While there isn't necessarily a winner to the game, feel free to collect the surveys afterward to remember the game.
